

“At Rasi seeds, our journey has always been defined by a simple purpose — to empower farmers through science, innovation, and trust. For over five decades, we have worked alongside the farming community, developing high-performing hybrid seeds that have improved productivity and strengthened rural livelihoods across India.

This same spirit now guides our collaboration in Mahyco International Pte. Ltd. (mipl). Through mipl, we are extending our collective expertise to farmers across Asia (excluding India) and Africa where innovation in seed technology can make a real difference to crop productivity, farmer income, and food security.

mipl represents a shared commitment between Mahyco and Rasi Seeds to deliver science-based, sustainable solutions rooted in farmer welfare. By combining strong research, local understanding, and responsible practices, we aim to build a more resilient and prosperous agricultural future for farmers across the world.“

Best Wishes,
